FIFTEEN CENTS

George-a-Thon I chairman William Reich (right) displays a check for $1,803—money raised to help save the historical George House last year. The Nov. 12 George-a-Thon II will raise funds to help restore the home, recently taken over by the Plano Preservation Association. Helping to organize

'George-a-Thon II' Set

George-a-Thon II, a 20-mile walk to raise money for the George House Fund, is scheduled for Nov. 12 between 8:45 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Organized by the Junior Historians of Plano, the walk-a-thon will raise funds to restore the historical local residence to its original condition. The City of Plano awarded the house to the Plano Preservation Association last summer after sufficient funds were gathered to move the home.

Almost $2,000 was raised by the first George-a-Thon last year.

Special guest at the Nov. 12 walk kickoff will be Dallas Cowboy cornerback Bennie Barnes, who has a special interest in the preservation and restoration of homes. Walkers may get the football player's autograph before beginning the walk from the north side of the Plano Senior High School parking lot.

Sponsor sheets (on which persons will pledge a certain amount of money per mile walked) are available at local schools.

The boy and girl who finish the walk and have the greatest dollar amount in pledges will be awarded two tickets to either the Dallas Cowboys-St. Louis Cardinals game on Nov. 14 or the Cowboys-Denver Broncos game on Dec. 18.

A football autographed by the Cowboy team will be given to the walker finishing first. Game tickets will also go to the youngest and oldest walkers to finish, the walker with the most supporters and the walker with the brightest outfit.

The principals whose schools have the most George-a-Thon participants and the most money in pledges will also win tickets.

Those turning in $50 or more will qualify for tickets to the Cowboys-Broncos game. One hundred tickets are available and will be awarded beginning with the greatest amount raised over $50. There will be approximately two weeks after the walk in which to collect the money pledged and qualify for prizes.

For further information, contact Ann Starnater at 423-4420 or Stacy Butler at 423-4134, or Jim Edwards at 422-1553.

Countywide Festivities Planned for Local Vets

An old-fashioned Veterans Day is planned for Nov. 11, the traditional day to honor veterans of all wars.

Although the federal government marked Veterans Day on Oct. 24 this year, Plano and McKinney vets are getting a jump on next year's return to Nov. 11 ceremonies.

This year's celebration which is jointly sponsored by McKinney American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars posts is a special tribute to veterans of World War I.

A parade featuring the state VFW Commander Manuel O. Rivas, Congressman Ray Roberts and State Representative Smith Gilly will get underway at noon in McKinney, ending at the American Legion Post.

Tully B. Lucas, the oldest living veteran of WWI in McKinney, is grand marshal of the event. Other dignitaries expected to ride in the parade are County Judge Nathan White, McKinney Mayor Billy J. Cope and McKinney Police Chief Bobby McPeak.

The Plano VFW color guard, a Marine color guard, the Owens Six Horse Hitch and a team of Clydesdales will also provide color to the march.

After a flag raising ceremony and speeches by Rep. Roberts and other officials, the day will end with a barbecue.

Tickets are available for $5 each from members of the American Legion and VFW.

PISD's Project DIAL

By TERRI ANDERSON

Students deemed "gifted and talented" in the Plano Independent School District's elementary grades will soon receive further academic challenges through the new Project DIAL.

The first-year program will focus on "Developing Interesting Activities for Learning" (DIAL) by supplementing the children's regular classroom studies of science and social studies. Students taken into Project DIAL will not be removed from their regular

City's Time Runs Out For HUD Comments

By PAM TROBOY

The city has missed its opportunity to have any input on a proposed low income housing project.

Clark Tedman, coordinator of the Plano project for the Department of Housing and Urban Development, said this week that the fund reservation for the 144-unit development is already made.

"The review process is already completed," he stressed. "The city was notified about the proposal and HUD received no comments. I don't know what the outcome of opposition now would be."

The official noted that the proposal by Vernon and James Smith Company met all HUD criteria and possessed the proper zoning.

The funds will probably be awarded within 60 days, according to Tedman. Since the project is a mortgage insurance program as well as a rent subsidy, the proposal must go through the mortgage insurance process.

The Smith company selected the northwest corner of Park Boulevard and Avenue N for the apartment complex and submitted the proposal to HUD. The federal agency was not involved in selecting the site, Tedman noted.

The property has been zoned as a planned development apartment project for more than 10 years. Neighboring residents are now petitioning the Planning and Zoning Commission to call a public hearing for the rezoning of the 12 acre tract to planned development retail.

A tract on the southwest corner of the intersection is also being petitioned for retail zoning. An application for another HUD project was also made on the southern property, but funds apparently ran out for the year.

Tedman said rezoning the northern tract for retail "could lead to complications along the way." He warned that the city would have to have some valid reason for the rezoning and added that he doesn't know "if it would hold up."

Plano Jaycees Will Solicit Blood Donors

Due to a shortage of blood during winter months at the Wadley Blood Bank, the Plano Jaycees have scheduled another drive for blood.

Persons wishing to donate a pint of blood may do so on Saturday from 9 a.m.-noon and from 1-4 p.m. at Palisades Square Shopping Center, Central Expressway and FM 544.

Persons wishing to donate a pint of blood may do so on Saturday from 9 a.m.-noon and from 1-4 p.m. at Palisades Square Shopping Center, Central Expressway and FM 544.

United Way Drive Nears Completion

United Way volunteers have raised $50,452, or 80.4 percent, of the minimum goal of $62,778, according to the latest tally made by L.B. Showalter, campaign chairman.

"My calculations include contributions from Chrysler Boat Corp. and employees for $8,205; Luminator Division of Gulton Industries Inc. and employees, $4,254; City of Plano employees, incomplete returns of approximately $2,400; and innumerable equally important gifts from small businesses and from individuals," said Showalter.

At the next report meeting set for 10:30 a.m. Tuesday, prior to the United Way Board meeting at noon, Showalter will be pushing workers to complete the campaign, which closes on Friday, November 11.

"As the drive enters the last and most difficult phase, we are hopeful all the volunteers will complete their assignments and bring their packets to my office before or by Tuesday morning," Showalter said.

Company employee campaigns to conclude next week are U.S. Brass Corp., Texas Transformer, AMTROL, Capital Wire and Cable and General Telephone Co.

"Past participation by these companies and their employees have been vital to the success of United Way of Plano," the campaign chairman explained. "We need the concern and contributions of the whole community if we are to support the needs of the 12 agencies United Way of Plano undergirds."

Individual contributions, which are tax deductible, may be mailed to Plano United Way in care of Showalter, 661 E. 18th St., Suite 100, Plano 75074, or pledges to be billed at a later date may be made. Pledge cards will be delivered to anyone wishing to make a donation by telephoning Showalter, 423-6725 or Pat Riehn, United Way president, 424-0322.

"Anyone who has ever participated in a United Way budget meeting knows the tremendous effort to trim the agencies' requests to match the dollars available," Mrs. Riehn noted. "In fact, the needs of each agency must be demonstrated completely to the board's satisfaction before any funds are allocated."

"It isn't that we wouldn't like to be able to do more," she added, "but we have to make sure that every penny is spent on the most vital needs in our community."

The 12 local agencies funded by the United Way of Plano are Plano Child Guidance Clinic, Plano Cooperative Pre-School, Plano Day Care Center, Plano Ministerial Alliance, the Information and Referral Service, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, USO, Salvation Army, American Red Cross and the Southwestern Diabetic Foundation.

"It is encouraging to find some good increases in giving this year, but it must be noted that there are a number of decreases too," said Homer Butler, field officer from the United Way of Metropolitan Dallas who is helping in the Plano campaign.

"With $12,326 remaining to be raised, it is important for Planoites to respond with a 12 percent increase over last year's gifts," he added. "With the large turnover of people here, it is often difficult to reach new people to explain the needs of these United Way agencies."

Effort Aids Gifted, Talented

classes but will participate in additional or more intensive school work.

Wanda Kirkpatrick, coordinator for the district's new gifted and talented program, explained the implementation of Project DIAL to School Board members earlier this week.

"Developing Interesting Activities for Learning, DIAL, is designed to meet additional instructional needs of the talented and gifted child," she explained. "It is designed to supplement all other (PISD) curriculum programs with social studies and science serving as the core subjects."

She added that as the student progresses in the program, growth in increased motivation, thinking skills, self-direction, leadership characteristics, creativity of thought, self-discipline and organization of material and time will be emphasized.

Children will be admitted into Project DIAL by the determination of their skills by their individual teachers and principals. Their admittance will be made based on class performance and achievement tests.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick, a former teacher at Weatherford Elementary School, was named coordinator of the gifted and talented program in September and has been working at "phasing in" the project.

She has organized an advisory committee for Project DIAL that will meet monthly and has put together a group of parent volunteers. The program will be offered for second through sixth graders with first grade students and kindergartners added by the end of January.

An in-service program for classroom teachers and parent volunteers will cover characteristics of the gifted child and techniques for teaching the gifted before the project starts. Mrs. Kirkpatrick and other staff members and volunteers will also have attended several training sessions at local universities before the program begins.

Among the goals and objectives for Project DIAL, Mrs. Kirkpatrick told the School Board she hopes to "encourage and develop a child's love of learning" and "to develop research techniques for encouraging divergent-productive thinking."

Providing leadership opportunities, encouraging listening and learning, promoting independent studies and developing responsibility to self and others are other goals of the program.

Superintendent H. Wayne Hendrick stressed that "the district feels that all students are gifted in some way" but added that Project DIAL will "challenge those capable of doing stronger work academically."

"The boys and girls won't be pulled out of the classroom—this is above and beyond what we already have," Dr. Hendrick noted. "And we'll never take any emphasis off the fact that there are others who are also gifted and talented."

Injuries Reported In Wrecks

Three persons were seriously injured and another three sustained minor injuries in three unrelated crashes Thursday morning.

The most serious accident occurred at 7:06 a.m. on Parker Road about two miles east of Avenue P. Maria Toris Lopez of 3434 Tarkio and Judith Lane Wible of Lucas both received serious injuries. Mrs. Lopez and Mrs. Wible are in satisfactory condition today at Plano General Hospital. Mrs. Lopez's four-year-old son Luis Xavier Lopez sustained minor injuries.

Peggy Ruth Strahan of 1704 Meadows also received major injuries in the collision of her 1975 Toyota and a 1976 Ford driven by Donald Gordon Wells of Wylie. The accident was reported at 7:30 a.m. at the intersection of 14th Street and Shiloh Road. Ms. Strahan has been treated and released.

A passenger in a 1977 Ford driven by Albert Ray Chastain of Grapevine also sustained minor injuries. Robert Bosley was taken to Plano General Hospital after the 7 a.m. one car crash on FM 544 about 7 miles east of Los Rios Blvd.

Roundabout Route

There's no shortcut to the Post Office these days. The city has again torn up 18th Street—this time between Avenue K and Avenue M. The roadway between Avenues M and P was reconstructed earlier. While construction is underway, postal patrons must enter the Post Office from Avenue L. Several signs point out access to the facility. A dropbox for outgoing mail is in the western parking lot of Plano North Shopping Center. The road is expected to remain closed for several weeks. (Staff photo by Mike Newman).

Voters Determine Tax Exemptions

AUSTIN (UPI)—Texans will vote Nov. 8 on two proposed constitutional amendments to give tax exemptions to historical or cultural resources, and permit agricultural organizations to collect dues from farmers and ranchers for promotion of their products.

A third amendment due consideration by voters would change the name of the Judicial Qualifications Commission to the State Commission on Judicial Conduct, and give that agency additional power to discipline judges.

None of three proposed amendments—among seven on the ballot—has provoked any controversy.

The proposed amendment No. 4 would authorize the legislature to provide for property tax relief to encourage the preservation of "cultural, historical or natural history resources."

Under the proposal, the legislature could grant relief from state property taxes, or permit cities, counties and other local taxing agencies to grant such exemptions.

Supporters of the plan note it would permit such tax breaks, but would not mandate them. Opponents argue local agencies such as school districts already face fund shortages, and exempting cultural and historic resources could further erode their tax bases.

The agricultural assessment amendment, No. 5 on the ballot, is designed to reinstate a 1967 law which was declared unconstitutional by the Texas

Supreme Court.

If the amendment passes, agricultural and marine associations such as poultry or livestock producers may collect assessments from producers of those commodities and use the funds for research and promotion of the product.

Producers who objected to the assessment could apply for refunds of the money they were assessed.

The Supreme Court had ruled such mandatory assessments amounted to an unconstitutional tax on agriculture, and opponents of the proposed amendment contend producers opposed to the program should not have to pay the assessments then go through a lengthy refund process.

Amendment No. 7 on the ballot would expand the size of the Judicial Qualifications Commission to include four citizen members instead of three, and add one justice of the peace to the membership. It also would give the commission, acting through the Supreme Court, power to suspend a judge from office with or without paying pending final disposition of charges against the judge.

If the amendment passes, the commission also would have authority to publicly reprimand a judge.

Supporters of the amendment contend the commission needs a method to take quicker disciplinary action against a judge, such as a reprimand, in addition to the lengthy procedures to remove a judge from office.

Opponents say judges are elected by voters, and their removal should be left to voters rather than an appointed agency. They also argue the increased power for the commission could discourage qualified persons from seeking judicial office.

Center Organizer to Speak At Local Junior Colleges

George Bullied, founder and director of Twin Valleys Community and School near Wardsville, Ontario, Canada will be giving a series of talks and workshops at local junior colleges.

The author of the book, "People of the Valley" will speak on the theme "Holistic Education for New Age Consciousness."

Twin Valleys is one of Canada's most remarkable educational communities for incorrigible youth and dropouts from the mainstream of society.

After seven years of existence and dealing with 600 teenagers, Twin Valleys boasts a success rate of roughly 80 percent. Forty-five percent of the former students are now working and holding down good jobs and thirty-five percent are in colleges and universities.

One reason why Twin Valleys has been successful is because its goal is to teach its members how to live while teaching them how to make a living.

Bullied will be speaking to students at Eastfield and Richland Junior Colleges. He will be giving workshops to the faculties at both colleges.

The public is invited to a lecture by Bullied and the presentation of a film by the National Film Board of Canada, "Listen, Listen, Listen", an 80-minute look into the lives of the students, the community, and the man who founded it.

The presentation will be

Tuesday, November 8, at 7:30 p.m. at Eastfield Junior College in the Performance Hall Auditorium. A $1 donation is asked for those who are not DCCCD students or faculty.

Bullied is in Dallas to share his factual experience in developing this unique school and community. It is his feeling that Twin Valleys should not remain "one of a kind" and need not be the sole torch bearer in the search for creative living and education.

Show Debates Amendments

Texas voters face seven proposed constitutional amendments at the polls on Tuesday, November 8, and Channel 13's "Texas Politics" show analyzes them at 5:00 p.m., Sunday.

Although all seven amendments are discussed, "Texas Politics" host Dave McNeely goes into greater detail on amendments 3 and 6 with two Texas legislators, Rep. Gonzalo Barrientos (D-Austin) and Sen. Bill Meier (D-Euless).

Those two amendments are considered the most controversial on the ballot. Amendment 3 would allow judges to deny bail to persons charged with a felony while out on bond for another felony. Amendment 6 would allow the Texas Legislature to pass laws calling for banks to use electronic funds transfers.

Barrientos voted against both the denial of bail amendment and the electronic funds transfer amendment when they were passed by the Texas House of Representatives. Meier--and most other legislators--voted for both amendments.

The Backyard Gardener

By PATRICK DENTON
Copley News Service

About now you no doubt will be noticing packages of spring-flowering Dutch bulbs displayed in some of the stores where you shop.

Some interesting news releases recently crossed my desk, in which The Netherlands Flower-bulb Institute gives some pretty inviting reasons for getting out there and planting some of these bulbs for a glorious display of spring bloom.

They begin by citing one of my favorite themes in this column, that of the physical and mental benefits of gardening. Even, perhaps especially, for the older, retired people with more leisure time than others, gardening is a perfect hobby. It is enjoyable, not too strenuous, inexpensive, and it allows for companionship in the hobby between friends, or husband and wife. It is a fine body-builder as well — all that bending and squatting in the fresh air is excellent exercise. And for the weight-watchers, gardening aids in the shedding of calories. Digging the garden gets rid of 400 calories an hour, pushing a hand mower uses 270, weeding and trimming uses 220.

Not only are our physical selves improved with gardening, but our mental health is given a real boost with that lovely, cosmic wonder of grubbing in the soil. There also is real pleasure and feelings of accomplishment in creating something beautiful around you, and in building the health of the environment with every green thing you grow and every time you add to and build up the soil, even in a tiny backyard plot.

It is certainly true that after a few hours of putting about in the garden, we do sleep better. Good sleep improves nerves, which in turn allows us better to cope with tensions and frustrations.

This news release gives some remarkable statistics to prove to us that gardening does indeed improve the environment. Did you know, for example, that in one year an apple tree produces enough oxygen for four people? On a hot day, an acre of grass gives off 2,400 gallons of water, which has a cooling effect equal to that of a 140,000-pound air conditioner. Trees, grass and plants absorb noise, and their hairy surfaces catch dust particles from the air until rainfall washes the dust into the soil where it can no longer irritate our breathing. Now don't you just feel like planting something? If you want to begin with something easy, something that is sure to grow, start with some spring-flowering bulbs. Growing them requires very little gardening knowledge. Basically, all you do is pop them into the ground and water them.

Dutch bulbs almost always produce spectacular blooms. Start with a dozen or two this year, and see the results next spring. Then, probably, you will want to try more next year. Soon, you will no doubt want to grow a few shrubs or perennials to set off your spectacular blooms, and before you know it you'll be a gardener!

During the next weeks look for columns on what types of bulbs are available in the spring-flowering sorts, where to plant them, how to plant them, and how to force them for indoor blooming.

In the meantime, scout out the local displays and see what is being offered locally. Find out what local nurseries offer Dutch bulbs and compare prices. There are bulb specialists whose catalogs you could send for. Their names can likely be found with a phone call to your nearest Department of Agriculture office.

I like to send for my bulbs to my own favorite bulb nursery, and I do enjoy so much reading the catalog of spring-blooming wonders.

Buy spring flowering bulbs now while nurseries and garden centers have a wide selection, suggests a landscape horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Selecting bulbs early will give you a wider choice of colors and flower types and will also improve your chances of successful plantings since bulbs will still be fresh," says Everett Janne. "Bulbs will dry out after a while and won't do as well. Also, planting them late will not give them time to develop a good root system before cold weather arrives."

The horticulturist suggests planting daffodils and crocus as soon as they become available.

For Wider Variety

Select Flowering Bulbs Early

However, for best results tulips and hyacinths should be chilled in a refrigerator from now until mid-December before planting.

"Pre-cooled bulbs are frequently advertised, but unless the bulbs are kept in cold storage, the normal temperature in most garden stores can negate the effect of the pre-cooled period," notes Janne. "Also, if tulips and hyacinth bulbs are planted before mid-December, warm soil temperatures can nullify the treatment. Without the chilling effect the performance and flower quality will be poor and the stems will be extremely short, often not coming above the soil."

For best results the horticulturist suggests locating the bulb bed in full sun in well-drained soil or in a raised bed. To prepare the bed for planting, till the soil a week or so before planting time and incorporate plenty of organic matter. Also add about two pounds of a complete fertilizer high in phosphorus per 100 square feet of bed.

"The most effective flower display can be obtained by massing a group of bulbs of one variety and color," points out Janne. "Plant bulbs about four inches apart and place the base of the bulb at a depth that is about three times the diameter of the bulb. Soak the bed thoroughly after planting and then wait for the spring magic."

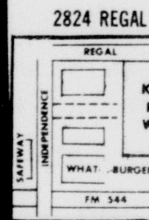

In many areas of the state bulb beds can be overplanted with pansies for winter color until the bulbs begin to bloom.

To Retain Qualities

Store Pecan Crop Properly

It would be a shame to lose your pecans now. They are hard to grow during hot, dry summers, like the one we just experienced. Proper storage is very important to retain their naturally good quality and taste.

Pecans are semi-perishable and unless properly cared for may become inedible due to mold, off flavor, discoloration or insect damage. These detrimental characteristics can be prevented if proper storage practices are employed. Several of the more important factors to consider include: adequate drying, proper packaging and refrigeration.

According to County

Extension Agent James R. Risinger, it is imperative to start with a high quality nut since proper storage conditions will not improve quality, only maintain it at or near post-harvest cured conditions.

High oil content and the fact that the oil is 93 percent unsaturated is one of the most important factors affecting the storability of pecans. Nutritionists say that an unsaturated oil is healthier, but this type oil shortens the shelf life of pecan products because of increased susceptibility to rancidity.

The county agent says that homeowners should store pecans in a polyethylene bag, either in shell or shelled, and place them in the refrigerator or the deep freeze, depending on how long they want to store them.

At room temperature the shelf life is 4 months in the shell and 3 months shelled.

In the refrigerator the pecans will hold good quality for 19 months in the shell or 12 months shelled. Pecans can be held in the deep freeze near 0 degrees F. for two years with very little adverse effect on the kernel quality.

Bountiful Harvest Means Low Prices

Thanksgiving is traditionally the time to celebrate a bountiful harvest. But the low prices which accompany bulging grain bins are giving Texas producers little to cheer about this fall, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown said today.

Brown reported that near-record harvests have pushed stocks of feed grains to an estimated 63.6 million bushels, over twice the amount in storage at this time last year.

With harvest now virtually complete for corn, on-farm and off-farm stocks as of Oct. 1 are estimated to be 173 percent above levels reported at that time last year.

Grain sorghum stocks are up 99 percent over 1976, with harvesting continuing only on the northern High Plains. Supplies of oats in all positions are up 49 percent.

"Substantial immediate price gains seem unlikely due to the large supplies on hand," Brown stated. "But the new national loan rates for corn, sorghum and wheat, though not as high as many would have liked, may increase holding and loan storage. This could eventually raise prices to a level that would allow fair profits for farmers."

Sun, Circulation Needed by Mums

Don't be disgruntled if your chrysanthemums (mums) aren't doing as well as they should. There may be a good reason for it.

"Several environmental conditions affect the performance of mums, and if these aren't provided, the results can be no flowers," says Everett E. Janne, landscape horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Plant mums in a spot with full sunlight throughout the day, good air circulation and well drained soil," he said. "There should be no tree roots to interfere with plant growth. Furthermore, never plant mums where they will be affected by supplemental night lights."

Another problem frequently encountered with mums is that people purchase plants in full bloom, set them in the garden and then try to get them to flower again the next year.

"This is fine if you purchased the early blooming garden variety," says Janne. "But frequently the late blooming florist varieties are sold. These have been manipulated with proper lighting and shading to bloom much earlier than their biological clock normally allows. The following year they fail to bloom early and frost gets them before they can produce flowers."

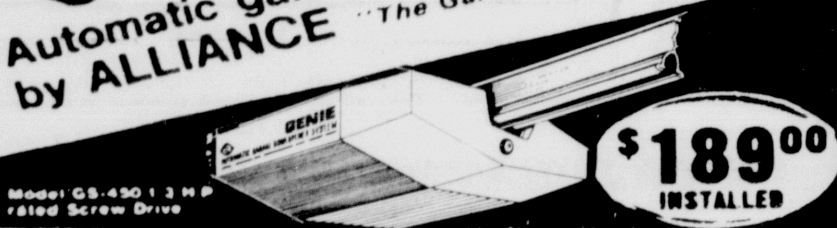

To get the best results with mums, buy healthy plants that are an early flowering type, plant them in the right location, and give them tender loving care, advises the horticulturist.

Greenhouse Growers Meet

The Texas Greenhouse Growers Conference is scheduled Nov. 8, 9 and 10 at the Rudder Conference Center at Texas A&M University.

Topics of special interest to greenhouse growers of flowers, bedding and foliage plants have been included in the program, announces Everett E. Janne, landscape horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Conference sponsors include the Texas Association of Nurserymen in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, agencies of the Texas A&M University System.

A get-acquainted social is planned the first evening at Ramada Inn, under the auspices of the Texas Association of Nurserymen. Discussions the morning of

Nov. 9 will include such subjects as greenhouse sanitation, a look at what constitutes a good plant growing media, and structural design for optimum plant production.

The afternoon session will deal with subjects such as tissue culture—can it work for the average nurseryman, tissue culture projects in progress at Texas A&M, and how to meet and work with a banker concerned with floral crop production. Another item of interest will be the discussion on how to accurately determine production costs.

Other discussion subjects for the first afternoon include chemical pruning and growth regulators, aphelandra leaf wrinkle, and a panel on "What Constitutes a Saleable Plant?" The panel will include a wholesaler, grower, flower shop manager, retail garden shop representative, educator and designer, and a consumer.

Topics for the second day's program include potential energy sources for the small grower, how to achieve success in the plant rental service, and research reports dealing with cold acclimatization studies and slow-release fertilizer studies.

Closing out the conference will be a discussion on greenhouse production of cacti and succulents and what's new in foliage plants.

Among conference speakers will be several noted out-of-state leaders, including Fred Peterson of the Soil and Plant Lab, Santa Clara, Cal., and Jim Leider of M. Leider and Sons, Prairie View, Ill.

Lawns and Gardens

ASK DOC GARD'NER

by NEIL SPERRY

Dear Doc: What's the shortest time it would take to get good compost ready for use?

Provided you shred the materials thoroughly, keep the pile wet and warm, and turn it once in a while, you should have compost within a few weeks or months. With limited turning, it can still be ready in 6-8 months.

Dear Doc: How do I start an avocado tree?

First, and easiest, buy an avocado, and, of course, save the seed. You can plant it an inch or two deep, or you can stick three toothpicks in and support it partly submerged in water. Make sure it's in a loose rich potting soil as soon as the root system develops. Keep it well watered (moist-not wet or dry) and use a teaspoon of a balanced house plant fertilizer every month or two. Avocado plants are quite lovely when young. Unfortunately, they get lanky and unsightly when kept inside for long periods of time. (That's the time to buy another avocado).

Dear Doc: We hear all the advantages of organic gardening every day. Are there any major drawbacks?

At least a couple, I would say. If plants in your lawn or garden develop an acute need for any given fertilizer element, you're likely to have some trouble finding an organic fertilizer that will release its fertility fast enough to help out. What's more, organic fertilizers are often pretty expensive when you figure the "per pound" price for the fertilizer you're getting. One other drawback of organic gardening—you're likely to have some difficulty controlling some of our more devastating pests, namely spider mites and grub worms.

Don't get me wrong, though. There's certainly much room in any gardener's plot for plenty of organic gardening. In other words, the familiar "middle of the road" approach is probably best.

Dear Doc: We have a pecan we grew from a nut started eight years ago. It still, as of this year, has never borne its first pecan. Suggestions?

When you grow a fruit or pecan from a seed, you'll most likely get an offspring that resembles neither of its parents. Your seedling tree is most probably inferior in quality to the parent tree that produced the nut. In any event, it's not a tree that tends toward heavy production at an early stage. Your best bet may be to bud or graft a known dependable variety on to your tree next spring.

Dear Doc: I can't wait to get some of the pretty daylilies we've seen recently in our garden. What's the best time to move them?

Now is great, so is early spring. (For folks who aren't familiar with these plants, there must be 20,000 varieties in all colors, shapes and sizes).

Dear Doc: Our pecan tree has rows of small holes around several of the branches. Are these caused by borers, and what should we do?

These are not the result of borer damage, but instead they're the calling card of the sapsucker, a type of woodpecker. Seldom will this bird do any permanent damage to the tree, and seldom will he be going after harmful insects, so just sit tight. About all you might want to do would be to spray or paint pruning compound over the holes.

Dear Doc: Last year's oak leaves have yet to decompose in our compost pile. Is there any chemical that will speed their rotting?

Shredding is probably the biggest help. Run the leaves through your lawn mower or through a leaf shredder. Add nitrogen fertilizers, much as you put on your lawns, to add the bacteria during the decay work. Keep your compost moist and warm, perhaps covering it with a polyethylene plastic in winter to absorb extra heat.

Dear Doc: How do we dig and store our caladiums? We invested some $40 this year and would like to save them if possible.

Dig them carefully once the leaves have started to fall to the ground. I would suspect that that has already occurred. Lay the bulbs carefully out on dry newspaper for several days, then pack in dry sawdust or perlite. Put them in shallow boxes, one or two layer per box. Pack each bulb individually in perlite or sawdust, taking care that the bulbs do not touch one another. Dust each bulb with sulfur to retard disease development. Store them cool (55-60 degrees) and dry. Do not allow bulbs to receive temperatures lower than 50 degrees.

Write your questions to Doc Gard'ner in care of this newspaper and watch for a speedy reply!

Proper Treatment Needed for Trees

Peach trees in Collin County can fall victim to disease problems unless treated by a copper fungicide. A material called Kocide 101 will effectively deter two fungus diseases and bacterial leaf spot when applied in the fall after the first frost, says James R. Risinger, county agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Most peach trees had a big crop this year, so special care should be taken to protect the trees. Complications brought on by the heavy loads of fruit and drought intensify the need for special care.

Coryneum blight is a fungus that attacks peach trees and causes a circular purple spot on the foliage and in severe cases, attacks the fruit. Another fungus disease is peach leaf curl. This disease results in a thickened and misshaped leaf.

Bacterial leaf spot attacks both the leaf and the fruit and reduces fruit quality so that it is unsaleable.

The important thing, reminds county agent, is that a fall spray application is necessary to keep these diseases from striking your peach trees next spring. So Kocide 101 should be applied as a spray after the first killing frost which normally occurs about Nov. 15 in Collin County.

Proper applications for a home garden require 1½ tablespoons of Kocide 101 per gallon of water. For larger operations, mix two pounds of the copper type fungicide with 100 gallons of water.

For further information on disease control programs for peaches as well as other fruits, contact the county Extension office, suggests Risinger.

Rally Catches Denton

By BILL LaROE

Rallying from a 29-10 deficit, late in the third quarter, the Plano Senior High Junior Varsity Wildcats came back to defeat the Denton High School Broncos in the 'Cats last game of the season by the final score of 30-29.

Denton quickly jumped to an early lead with less than two minutes elapsed in the first quarter. On the third play of the game, they connected on a 74-yard touchdown pass. The PAT was good and Plano was behind 7-0.

Following the kick from Denton, the 'Cats relied on the running power of Ricky Gaddis, who carried the ball every play of an 82-yard touchdown drive. Out of the six carries by Gaddis, one was for 35 yards and another went for 32 yards.

Gaddis then scored the tying points for Plano from 2 yards out.

Early in the second quarter, Plano was forced to turnover the ball and punt to Denton's 49.

The Bronco quarterback rolled right and scored the go ahead points on a 51-yard run, Denton led 14-7.

Near the end of the first half, an interference call on Plano gave Denton excellent field position deep in Plano's territory.

Seven plays later, the Bronco scored their third touchdown with 35 seconds left in the half.

Plano received the second half kick off and marched down to the Broncos' 12, where the drive stalled. Kicker Hans Mansion came in and nailed a bad-angle field goal from 28 yards out to tighten the score at 21-10.

Following the kick by Plano, the Bronco punter booted the ball to the Plano one-yard line.

On a bad hand off, the 'Cats fumbled the ball in their own endzone where Denton recovered it for a touchdown.

The Broncos successfully made a two-point conversion and led the Cats 29-10.

With 10:39 left in the final quarter, Ricky Gaddis scored from one-foot out to cap a 13-play, 63-yard drive by Plano.

Mansion added the PAT, and the score was now 29-17.

Halfback Mason Mitchell made the score 29-24 as he scored on a six yard pitchout from quarterback Joe Simpson.

Plano regained possession and drove down to Denton's 12 yard line where they lost the ball on downs.

On the next play, the Broncos fumbled and Plano recovered the ball with 30 seconds left in the game.

Simpson scored the go ahead points for Plano on a one-yard plunge with 24 seconds on the clock.

The PAT failed and as time ran out the score board showed 30-29 in favor of Plano.

The Junior Varsity Wildcats final record for the 1977 season is 8-1-10.

Sports Briefs

Maxson Inked

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Steelers Thursday signed Alvin Maxson, a third-year running back with the New Orleans Saints, to replace Laverne Smith, who fractured his leg in last Sunday's loss to the Baltimore Colts.

Maxson, 25, 5-foot-11 and 201 pounds, was the Saints' final cut at the beginning of the season.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Jane O'Doul Figone, widow of baseball star Lefty O'Doul, died of cancer Wednesday. She was 60.

Figone, who is survived by her husband, Dan Figone, married O'Doul, a two-time National League batting champion, in 1953. He died eight years ago.

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit Pistons said Thursday center Bob Lanier's eye was found to be in perfect working order after he suffered a slight injury in Wednesday night's game.

Examination disclosed one of the six muscles in the eye went into spasms after Lanier was poked in the eye and he suffered double vision. However, the eye was in good shape at the time of the examination, the Pistons reported.

LAKE BUENA VISTA, Fla. (UPI) — Three players from each of the 28 teams in the National Football League will clash in a 54-hole charity golf tournament in January.

Officials announced Thursday the first annual $50,000 Mike Douglas-National Football League Players Association Golf Classic will be held at Walt Disney World Jan. 26-29 for the benefit of the Juvenile Diabetes Research Foundation.

SEATTLE (UPI) — The

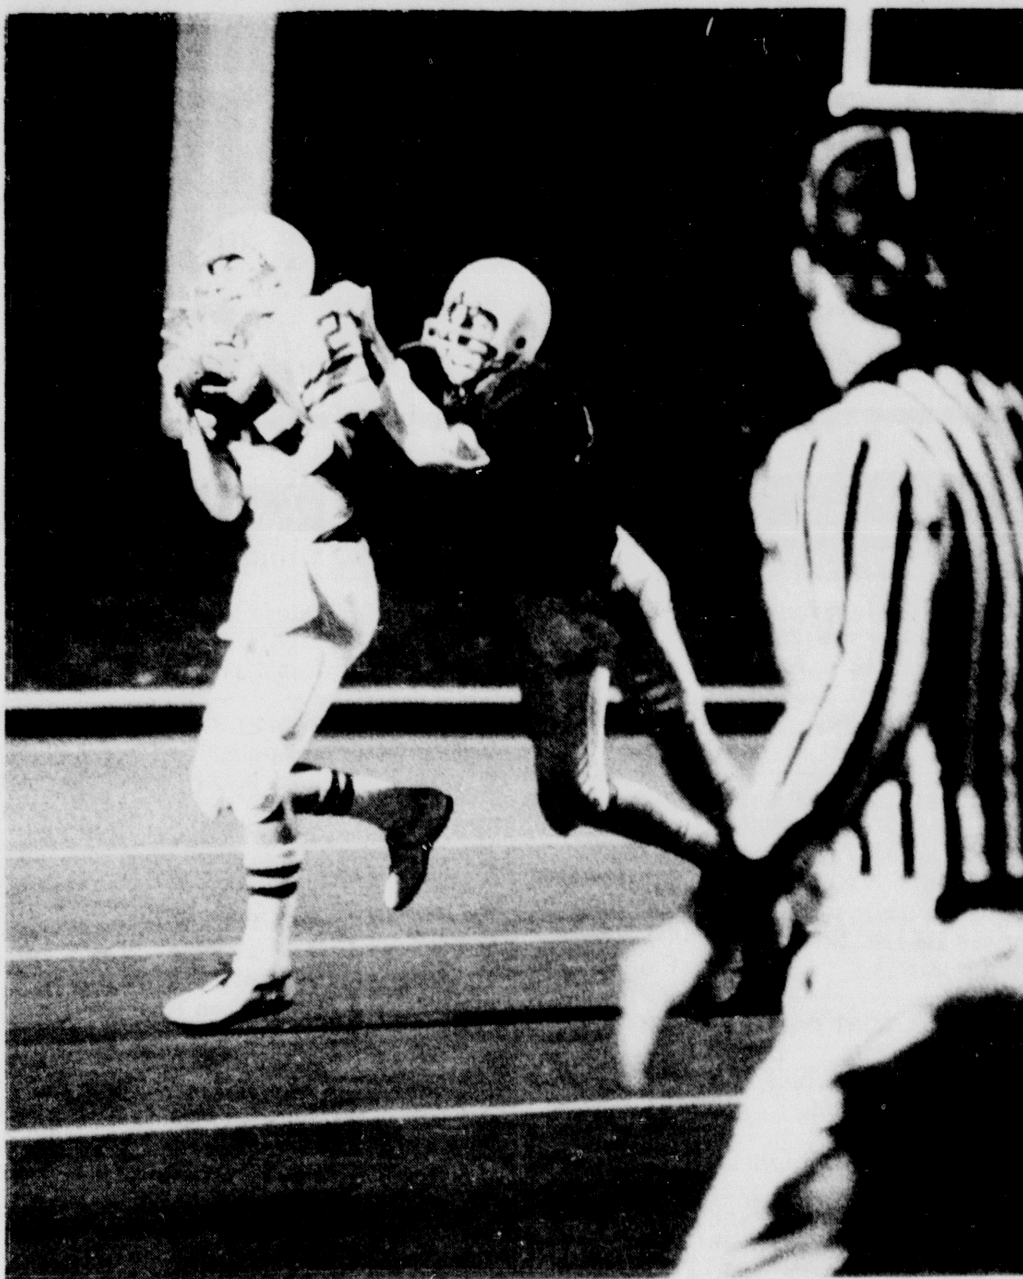

Seattle Seahawks have denied a charge they have the highest ticket prices in the National Football League.

John Thompson, general manager of the Seattle club, said prices quoted by the organization called "Fight to Advance the Nation's Sports" were inaccurate and misleading.

He said Seattle's average ticket price of $11.79 is second or third highest in the NFL and the Seahawks will not increase prices in 1978 and "probably not" in 1979.

TOKYO (UPI) — American rookie pro golfer Debbie Massey Thursday won the $15,000 top money in Japan's Mizuno classic golf tournament.

Massey's 54-hole total at the Hanayashiki Golf Club course was 72-73-75-220 — two under par, which left her six strokes ahead of her fellow American, Hollis Stacy.

Raider Eighth Wins

Raider eighth grade footballers at Bowman Middle School struck for 14 unanswered points in the first period to beat Carrollton Newman Smith's "B" team, 14-0 Wednesday.

On their initial possession, the Raiders completed a 50-yard halfback pass from Kevin Bush to Kenny Burns for a touchdown. Joe McRoberts swept the left end for the two-point conversion and an 8-0 lead.

The Raiders then put another six points on the scoreboard on a 15-yard run by Joe McRoberts around left end. The touchdown came on Bowman's second possession.

"We were pleased with the effort of all the kids," Coach Glen Lawrence said. "We stopped their offense three times inside our 20-yard line."

The game ended the season for the "B" team at 3-0-3.

Standouts included, offensively, Dervie Balusek, Joe McRoberts, John Kiedinger, Steve Gurtell, Scot Snow, Jeff Scalf and Bush. Defensive standouts were Craig Blum, Mark Wright, Bush, Richard Sievert, Brent Johnson, Gary Johnston, Peter Carletti and Robert Walker.

Ram 8th Romps

Wilson Middle School's eighth grade "B" team romped to a 28-0 win Wednesday over Carrollton DeWitt Perry.

Touchdowns for the Rams were scored by Jesse Palmer on a reverse, Charlie Lee on a quarterback sneak, Brian Morris on a dive play, Steve Derbin on a quick pass and Casey Cross on a sweep.

"It was a great team effort," Coach Mike Cloud said. "Our offense put together several good drives."

Defensively, the Rams were highlighted by a blocked punt, two interceptions and a quarterback sack.

"Our defense gave us good field position. We had swarming tackles," added Coach Cloud.

Offensive standouts were Lee, Derbin, Joe Bryant, Donnie Armstrong, Palmer and Cross. Defensive standouts were Steve Ader, Mark Hopkins, Shawn Ludham, Morris and Greg Gilmore.

Haggard 'B' Ties, 0-0

Eighth Grade Ends Season

Respective eighth grade "B" team from Haggard Middle School and Lewisville Hedrick battled to a 0-0 tie Wednesday.

"The whole team did an outstanding job on defense," Coach Terry Tuck said. "Lewisville had a big team and they did an excellent job of stopping us twice inside the 20-yard line in the fourth quarter," Coach Tuck added.

Standouts were Paul Watzlavic at linebacker, Marcus Lippe, Lynn Perry, Joe Scheel, Jerry Jarvis and Lawrence Maayh.

"We played well all year long and it was enjoyable for Coach Daryl Gill and I to work with these young men," Coach Tuck added. The Eagle "B" finished the season at 3-2-1.

Grudge Match Highlights SWC Play

Houston Hosts Texas Saturday

By MIKE RABUN
UPI Sports Writer

What we have building for this weekend's entertainment is an old fashioned grudge match with a continuing bid for a national championship thrown in for extras.

It seems the No. 1 Texas Longhorns, unbeaten in seven games, and the disappointing Houston Cougars (4-3 for year after losing starting quarterback Danny Davis) don't like each other these days. And, by chance, they collide Saturday at Rice Stadium, with feelings running high and relations between the two schools' athletic departments somewhat strained.

Texas Coach Fred Akers, however, has done his best to downplay the bickering which has developed since the recruiting of Odessa high school quarterback Darrell Shepard early this year.

Shepard at first promised

"I've got no hard feelings toward them," said Akers this week. "But I can't speak for them. All I know is it should be an intense football game. They defeated us last evidence which touched off the NCAA investigation.

Akers has denied that, saying the Cougars should be buddy-buddy with Texas since it was Longhorns schedule is bland by comparison.

Seventh-ranked Arkansas (5-1), off to its best start in six years, will try to stay in the SWC race against Baylor (3-4) Saturday night in Little Rock while afternoon games have Rice (1-7) visiting SMU (3-5) and TCU (2-5) traveling to Texas Tech (5-2).

Ninth-rated Texas A&M (5-1) will have the week off to prepare for a key meeting with Arkansas.

When Houston began playing for the SWC crown last year, each SWC school had a choice of playing the Cougars in Rice Stadium or the Astrodome the first time they made the trip to Houston.

Texas chose Rice Stadium and that will be a financial boost to both teams since all 70,000 seats have been sold. "We simply don't have any tickets left," said one Houston spokesman. "We've never had a home game like this. We've never had a sellout ahead of time at the Astrodome."

Texas will thus have played to sellout crowds four of the past five weekends.

'I've got no hard feelings toward them. But, I can't speak for them. All I know is it should be an intense football game.'

— Fred Akers

Texas he would sign with the Longhorns, but on the final day of recruiting changed his mind and signed with Houston. The NCAA, within four months, proclaimed Houston used illegal inducements to sign Shepard and slapped the Cougars with a year's probation.

year and the game will be played before a capacity crowd.

"Frankly, I haven't given it much thought since he signed with somebody else. I'm not bitter about Shepard signing with them."

Some of those on the Houston side have outspoken beliefs that Texas produced

Athletic Director Darrell Royal who urged the Southwest Conference to admit Houston to the league in the first place.

So it goes. It will all add to a game that should be a good one on its own merits.

The top-ranked Longhorns, with the nation's leading rusher (Earl Campbell), the least scored upon defense in the nation and one of the best kickers ever to boot it in college ball (Russell Erxleben), will be up against a team that almost certainly will reach an emotional peak for this one.

The rest of the conference

North Texas Hosts New Mexico State

DENTON, Texas (UPI) — The New Mexico State Aggies, who have been less than successful outside the Missouri Valley Conference this season, take on a non-conference foe again this weekend.

The Aggies are tied for the MVC lead with a 3-1 conference mark, but are only 1-3 this year in nonconference games. Saturday night, they will play one of their toughest opponents, North Texas State, which has a 7-2 record.

Both teams are coming off big losses, as NMSU was dropped by in-state rival New Mexico, 35-13, last week and NTS lost to Florida State, 35-14.

"North Texas is one of the better teams I've seen," said

NMSU Coach Jim Bradley. "Last year, we had them down in the fourth quarter, and they came back to beat us."

North Texas, which scored two touchdowns in the final period to upend the Aggies 25-14 last year, owns a four-game winning streak in the 19-year-old series.

The Mean Green is led by quarterback Kenny Washington, who has completed 65 of 106 passes for 884 yards, and running back Mike Jones, who has gained 737 yards.

Introducing the ALL-NEW 1977 line of John Deere Chain Saws

Come By and Operate the All New John Deere Chain Saws on Saturday, November 5th. Buy One During Our Demonstration and Get A FREE Gas Can (6.95 Value)

All-new styling. All-new features. All-new performance. That's the story of the 1977 line of John Deere Chain Saws.

John Deere Chain Saws are human engineered for greater operating comfort. Strategically located rubber mounts on all models, except the 30, isolate vibration to help prevent "the jitters," even after an all-day session of trimming, bucking, or felling trees.

And there's a saw for just about everyone. From homeowners and weekend woodsmen to farmers and professional woodcutters. Each features an air-cooled engine, 30 to 70 cc's. A capacity-matched sprocket-nose guidebar, 12 to 24 inches long, for improved performance and longer chain life. Externally adjustable automatic oiler. Counterbalanced crankshaft. And nonmodular construction for easy replacement of individual parts. To help prevent overheating, the fuel tank is separated from the engine by the oil reservoir.

Read about the additional features below. Then visit us. We'll be happy to demonstrate the performance and comfort features of these all-new John Deere Chain Saws.

A throttle/trigger interlock on all saws, except the 30, provides added safety. It must be held down and the "trigger" pulled before the chain will engage.

A chain catch

located on the power-

head of all larger saws helps protect you from injury in the event of a broken chain.

For added safety,

the rear handle on all saws is designed for use as a foothold

when starting the saw.

A molded plastic handguard on larger saws helps protect your left hand from injury.

Sprocket-nose guidebars are standard on all saws. A sprocket nose lifts the chain off the bar in the nose area to improve performance, reduce chain wear.

Chisel and semi-chisel chains cut smoothly and efficiently. Depth gauges and guard links are designed to help eliminate pinching and kickback.

The Committed Christian

What does it mean to be a committed Christian? Many believe that it means, primarily, regular attendance at church. This is important, however, it is not enough to make one a committed Christian.

The truly committed Christian brings Christ into every corner of his life. This includes his family life, his business affairs, and even his social life. Many people think that commitment requires forsaking those things that they hold dear—money, parties, fun. This is not true, however, these things do come to hold less importance than before. For the committed, faithfulness to Christ becomes the most important thing in life. Are you a committed Christian?
